To whom it may concern,

As a 24/7 medical emergency service with a global presence, our foremost requirement is to have in place a robust, adaptable and cost efficient telephony platform.

TWL have since the start of our relationship provided us with the advice and guidance we need to ensure that we always benefit from the very best available technology at the most competitive price.

Their customer service and product support is impressive and provides us with the confidence we need that such an important aspect of our service delivery is in reliable hands
